

Is the author a credible source? Does the author include their credentials and contact information in their work? How do you know the author is credible?